OUR BUDDY SYSTEM

Your project keeps moving.

Every designer and project manager has a designated colleague who can step in when needed, keeping your project moving.

02

A workplace shaped around your people

Understanding how people use an office, before design begins.

The best starting point for an office is understanding how people use it.

Before design begins, we can arrange a workplace workshop with your staff and a specialist consultancy. Together, we explore how your teams work, collaborate and use their space, then use those insights to inform the layout.

- Workshops are available on request, with scope and fees agreed before engagement.

IN PRACTICE

Singapore Pools

10,000 sq ft | Main Branch, Middle Road

Working with Singapore Pools staff and Ideactio, we carried out a workplace workshop before starting the design.

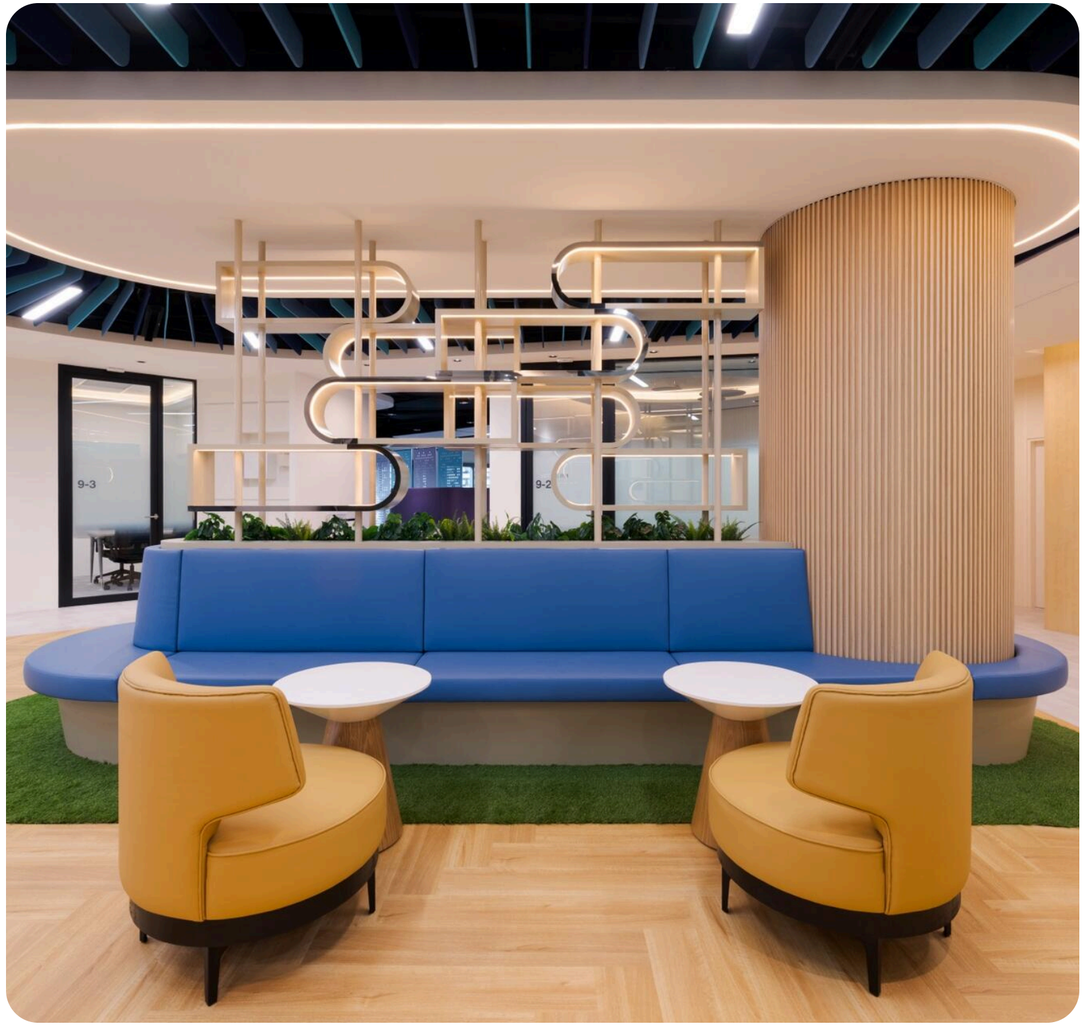

The project covered the lift lobby, central core, meeting rooms, directors' offices and work areas.

A clear path from brief to handover

01

Understand your brief

We learn how your teams work and what you want your office to achieve.

02

Develop the design

We work with you to refine the layout and design for your approval.

03

Confirm the budget

We prepare the project budget for your approval before construction begins.

A clear path from brief to handover

04

Bring the space to life

Our project team coordinates the site works. Digital site records and virtual walkthroughs help you follow progress remotely.

05

Prepare for move-in

We coordinate handover of the completed office and support your move.

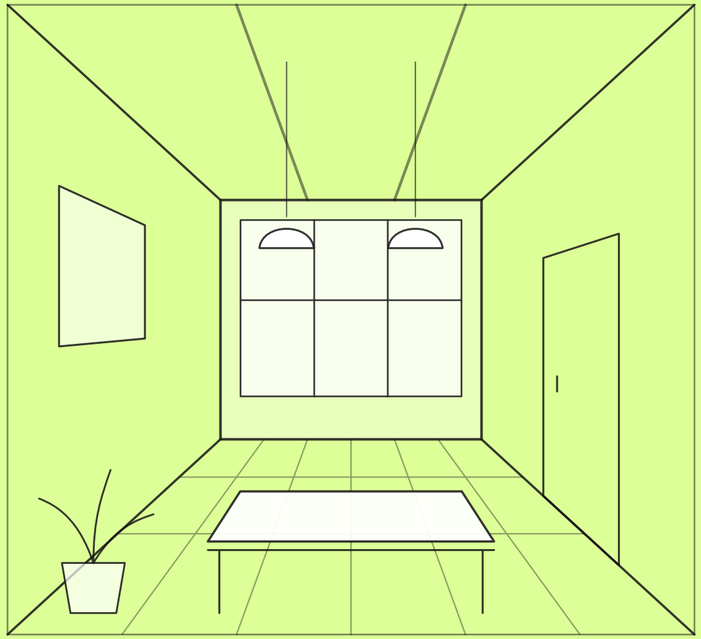

06

Support you after handover

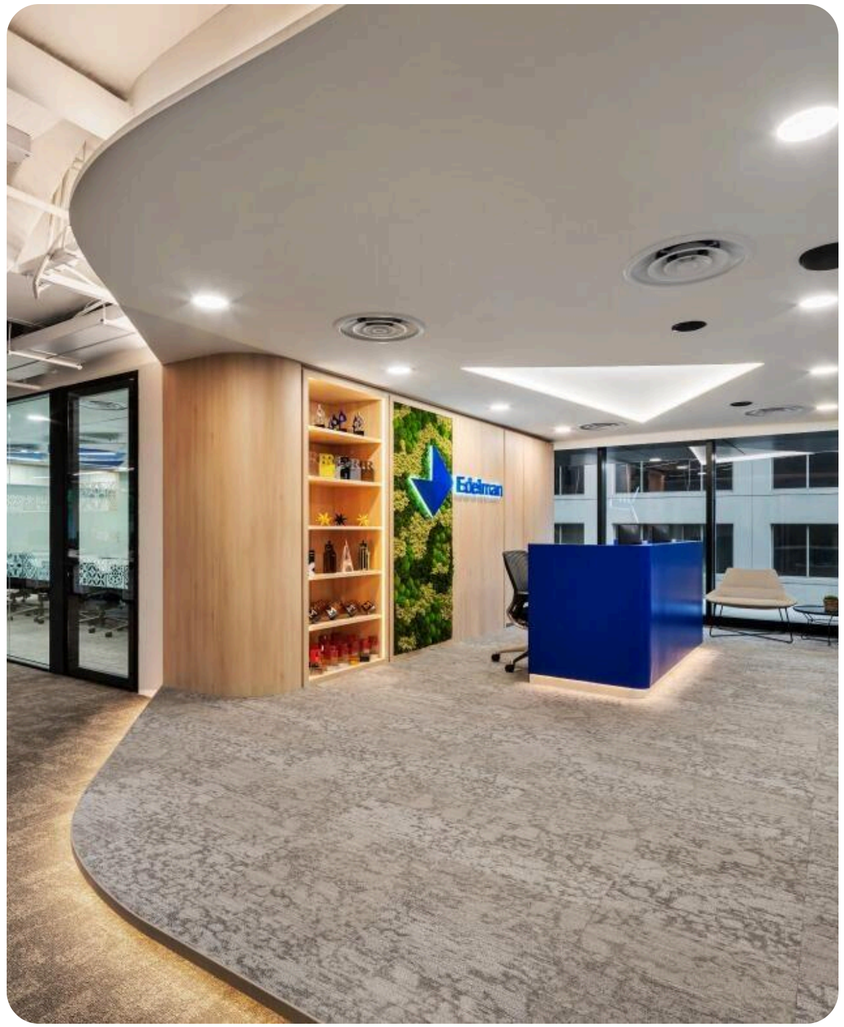

We remain your point of contact for covered defects and supplier warranty claims.

04

Your current office

Adapt the space you have, or reinstate it as you move.

Make more of the office you have

Adapt your existing workplace as your team and ways of working evolve.

OUR ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS SERVICES INCLUDE

01 Reworking office layouts

02 Adding rooms and enclosed spaces

03 Rebuilding areas to suit new requirements

Together, we define the scope and plan how the works fit around your office's day-to-day needs.

Bring your move together

Your new office and the space you are leaving are two parts of the same transition.

D'trax provides both office fit-out and reinstatement services, so one team can coordinate the work across both locations.

We help you plan the requirements for your new space alongside the reinstatement works for your existing office.
